

seven knots. On that date I find 'steaming with the squadron east to quarter north' and I find by the entry, between 8 o'clock in the morning and meridian of that date, that we made from ten to twelve knots."

Mr. Hanna. What was the condition of the sea?

The witness. The sea had smoothed, I would judge from the way we were going. We raised the speed from seven to ten knots.

"Could you have coaled vessels on the afternoon of the 26th?"

"I could up to the time I was broken down." was the answer. "While I had control of the ship I could have coaled."

"What time did you break down?"

"We stopped at 5:30 o'clock that afternoon."

If vessels could have been coaled while the Merrimac was in the harbor? The witness replied that that was a supposition question, and that he would not like to say. As a matter of fact, she did not coal any vessel while in tow. On all days from May 22 to May 26, except the 24th, when en route from Cienfuegos to Santiago, and when disabled the Merrimac had had vessels alongside for the purpose of coaling, and they had been coaled from the collier.

On cross-examination, Mr. Rayner quoted Commodore Miller's orders for coaling from the Merrimac on the 26th. He said the Massachusetts had been coaled at 7:30 o'clock in the morning of that day. He was examined concerning signals as to coaling the Texas. While these questions were being put Commander Miller said, laughingly: "Go ahead; you've got me there."

He then proceeded: "I signalled over: I object to having a battleship coaled while I am in port. Capt. Phillips of the Texas signalled, I think, to Capt. Merrimac, but I do not know whether it was to the admiral, or him. 'K and M will crush G.'"

Mr. Rayner. You were not G. you were G. was the Massachusetts.

Witness. I was G. I think. What I object to was having two battleships beside me. They have a peculiar motion, and when two battleships are rolling they would have a tendency to crush a collier between them. It was not so much on account of weather as it was the presence of a battleship on each side.

"How was the sea at that time?" asked counsel.

"I did not feel the sea very much," said the witness, "because my ship was peculiarly a steady ship."

"How was it as far as the other ships were concerned?"

"Battleships nearly always have motion, which is my experience. As far as I am personally concerned, I could have cared less."

"Well, how about the other vessels?"

"That is not for me to judge."

"Then when you spoke of your capacity to coal, you spoke about your own ship."

"Yes, that was ready for delivery, I am giving no opinion regarding other ships."

HATED TO GO ALONGSIDE.

Continuing, the witness said that he "always hated to go alongside the battleship." The Merrimac, he went on, was always steady, but the battleship was continually rolling.

"Especially in a rough sea," suggested counsel.

"In any sea," responded the witness. "It is not that especially true when the ship has providing sponsors, as had the Texas."

"They were always nasty," the witness responded.

Mr. Rayner questioned Commander Miller closely concerning the state of the weather and of the sea, May 24, quoting from Admiral Cervera's statement on that subject, but the witness would only say that his log was silent as to the condition of the sea at that time.

In this connection, witness referred to his removal from the command of the Merrimac, in order to turn the vessel over to Lieut. Hadden. He said on that point: "When I was taken out summarily from the Merrimac, nearly everything I had was lost, and the only thing I can remember now, with the few notes I have here, is in my log."

The court asked: "Was there any point near Cienfuegos where vessels could have found protection from the sea on May 24?"

The witness replied: "I do not think that we could have got up probably to the Isle of Pines. There was very little, so far as I can remember now, where there would have been found shelter weather than we found off Cienfuegos, unless going very far to the eastward."

The court also asked: "Could you have coaled any of the vessels on May 24, if they had been ordered to do so?"

"The court, I suppose, I should judge, to the best of my knowledge, I could not, I say I could coal; yes, I could coal at any time, but then I could not have coaled comfortably. For the reason, and mainly the reason, and if I had my choice I would not have coaled on that day; that is the truth."

As he left the stand, Commander Miller asked that he might be excused if he had shown any temper.

"I feel a little bit touchy about the Merrimac," he said.

Admiral Dewey assured him that he had displayed no temper.

CAPT. JEWELL TESTIFIES.

Capt. Theodore Jewell, who commanded the battleship Minnesota during the Spanish War, said that he had first fallen in with the "Flying Squadron," under command of Commodore Schley, on the evening of May 24. Capt. Lemy, quoted from Admiral Schley's letter to the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs, dated February 15, 1899, saying: "After having been informed by our officers that Capt. Jewell and Wise, that, although they had been off Santiago for a week, they had seen nothing of Cervera's fleet since it left Curacao," and that he had given no information concerning Schley's information or any other information concerning the Spanish fleet. The witness replied: "I gave him no information with reference to the subject when I saw him."

Judge-Advocate asked: "At the time you were within signaling distance of the flagship of the 'Flying Squadron' off Santiago, were you at any time asked any questions by Commodore Schley as to the movements of the Spanish squadron in Santiago?"

"Not to my recollection," replied the witness.

"Do you recall whether you went on board the flagship Brooklyn at this time?"

"I did not go on board that day." Capt. Jewell said that when he had first seen Admiral Schley's statement as to the information he might have given concerning the Spanish fleet, he had written a letter to the department denying that he had done so. Objection was made to this line of testimony, and it was not persisted in. The witness in reply to a question from Mr. Rayner said he had knowledge that Capt. Bigbee, speaking for himself and for Capts. Jewell and Wise, stated to Commodore Schley on the Colon May 1, saying that, in the forenoon of that day, Commodore Schley had signalled to transfer the flag to the Massachusetts, that is, to go in to engage the Colon. Describing that engagement, the witness said:

A POINT ABOUT COALING.

The court here asked a question which opened up the coaling question. The witness said: "How far forward the Minnesota have come with her 100 tons of coal at the time you state?"

"If I had burned 400 tons of coal, I would have made something like twelve thousand yards, and that would leave the battleship empty. I was burning about nine-fifteen tons a day, and on that, making fourteen or fifteen knots."

Drawing from Capt. Jewell the fact that the distance from Santiago to Key West is 880 miles, Mr. Rayner said: "In view of what you said just now, will you explain the signals I sent at 8:30 p.m., May 22, from the Minnesota?"

"What I did was to get enough coal to go to Key West." Minneapolis had passed the entrance to the harbor, the New Orleans and others following.

"On the run back across the harbor I again fired at 10,000 yards. The shot still fell short, and as the Massachusetts and New Orleans slowed down, and came after their screens, I slowed my engines, then increased the range to 11,000 yards and fired two shots from the forward 12-inch turret. The first one was fired by Lieut. Van Dusen at 11,000 yards, and the second shot fell short. Lieut. Hill had the other gun in that turret. I gave him the range at 11,000 yards, and he fired, and you explain that?"

"There is an error here of about 500 or 600 yards, and the Brooklyn is 100 or 1400 are very different."

"I estimated the distance I could steam. I did not usually provide for burning more than 100 tons of coal in the Minnesota, and I would have to allow for contingencies. I was burning the fires from the boilers very often on account of the leaky, stinking, fresh air in other boilers. My coal supply was variable. I could not depend upon it."

"Then, at this time, you just had enough, according to these signals, to get to Key West with less than 100 tons of coal on board," said the witness.

Admiral Evans was there, and can answer for himself. We want facts, not theories or opinions."

Describing the battle off Santiago, Admiral Evans said: "When Cervera's fleet came out of Santiago harbor, the Iowa was at the center, with the Brooklyn to the left and the Texas to the right. Captain McCalla said, 'Come on, boys, what vessels were there there?'"

"The only vessel between the Iowa and the Brooklyn was the Texas."

"Did you have an opportunity of observing the movements of the Brooklyn?"

"You mean during the battle?"

"I mean at the beginning of the battle."

"I saw the Brooklyn when the fighting began," said Rear-Admiral Evans. "When the Iowa came out of the harbor, the Brooklyn was still off to the westward. That was just as the fight began."

"I saw her again, possibly five minutes afterward, when she was passing the Iowa, heading northwest toward the port battery, headed northwest toward the head of the Spanish column. I did not see the Brooklyn again until my attention was directed to her by the navigator, who said, 'Look out, the Texas is coming.'"

"The Texas was the only place in the vicinity of Cape Cruz where large vessels could have found protection from a westerly or southwesterly wind."

Capt. McCalla: "There was no place where the larger ships could take protection from a westerly or southwesterly wind. The prevailing winds were from the east, and a southwesterly wind is of short duration in that vicinity, and means change of direction to the north, and vice versa."

The Court: "Had the fleet of Cervera been in the harbor of Cienfuegos, could it have been seen by the vessel blockading that port?"

Capt. McCalla: "I should say no."

The appearance of the masts might have been seen if they had been in the stretch of the river where it turns to the east, but I should not expect to have found them there. If they were behind the fort, they could not have been seen in my opinion."

FIGHTING BOB'S EVANS.

Capt. McCalla was then excused, and Capt. Jewell was then excused, and the court adjourned for luncheon. When the court convened for the afternoon session, Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans, who, as captain, commanded the battleship Iowa during the battle off Santiago, was called to the witness stand. He stated that he had been present at the court-martial of Capt. McCalla. I should say no.

The witness: "The appearance of the masts might have been seen if they had been in the stretch of the river where it turns to the east, but I should not expect to have found them there. If they were behind the fort, they could not have been seen in my opinion."

PATRICK PETER DEVINE.

Capt. McCalla was then excused, and the court adjourned for luncheon. When the court convened for the afternoon session, Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans, who, as captain, commanded the battleship Iowa during the battle off Santiago, was called to the witness stand. He stated that he had been present at the court-martial of Capt. McCalla. I should say no.

Judge-Advocate: "Lemly asked: 'Please state what, if anything, was done while this was in Cienfuegos?'

"I did not know especially true was this when the witness had providing sponsors, as had the Texas."

"They were always nasty," the witness responded.

Mr. Rayner questioned Commander Miller closely concerning the state of the weather and of the sea, May 24, quoting from Admiral Cervera's statement on that subject, but the witness would only say that his log was silent as to the condition of the sea at that time.

In this connection, witness referred to his removal from the command of the Merrimac, in order to turn the vessel over to Lieut. Hadden. He said on that point: "When I was taken out summarily from the Merrimac, nearly everything I had was lost, and the only thing I can remember now, with the few notes I have here, is in my log."

The court asked: "Was there any point near Cienfuegos where vessels could have found protection from the sea on May 24?"

The witness replied: "I do not think that we could have got up probably to the Isle of Pines. There was very little, so far as I can remember now, where there would have been found shelter weather than we found off Cienfuegos, unless going very far to the eastward."

The court also asked: "Could you have coaled any of the vessels on May 24, if they had been ordered to do so?"

"The court, I suppose, I should judge, to the best of my knowledge, I could not, I say I could coal; yes, I could coal at any time, but then I could not have coaled comfortably. For the reason, and mainly the reason, and if I had my choice I would not have coaled on that day; that is the truth."

As he left the stand, Commander Miller asked that he might be excused if he had shown any temper.

"I feel a little bit touchy about the Merrimac," he said.

Admiral Dewey assured him that he had displayed no temper.

CAPT. JEWELL TESTIFIES.

Capt. Theodore Jewell, who commanded the battleship Minnesota during the Spanish War, said that he had first fallen in with the "Flying Squadron," under command of Commodore Schley, on the evening of May 24. Capt. Lemy, quoted from Admiral Schley's letter to the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs, dated February 15, 1899, saying: "After having been informed by our officers that Capt. Jewell and Wise, that, although they had been off Santiago for a week, they had seen nothing of Cervera's fleet since it left Curacao," and that he had given no information concerning Schley's information or any other information concerning the Spanish fleet. The witness replied: "I gave him no information with reference to the subject when I saw him."

Judge-Advocate asked: "At the time you were within signaling distance of the flagship of the 'Flying Squadron' off Santiago, were you at any time asked any questions by Commodore Schley as to the movements of the Spanish squadron in Santiago?"

"Not to my recollection," replied the witness.

"Do you recall whether you went on board the flagship Brooklyn at this time?"

"I did not go on board that day." Capt. Jewell said that when he had first seen Admiral Schley's statement as to the information he might have given concerning the Spanish fleet, he had written a letter to the department denying that he had done so. Objection was made to this line of testimony, and it was not persisted in. The witness in reply to a question from Mr. Rayner said he had knowledge that Capt. Bigbee, speaking for himself and for Capts. Jewell and Wise, stated to Commodore Schley on the

Colon May 1, saying that, in the forenoon of that day, Commodore Schley had signalled to transfer the flag to the Massachusetts, that is, to go in to engage the Colon. Describing that engagement, the witness said:

A POINT ABOUT COALING.

The court here asked a question which opened up the coaling question. The witness said: "How far forward the Minnesota have come with her 100 tons of coal at the time you state?"

"If I had burned 400 tons of coal, I would have made something like twelve thousand yards, and that would leave the battleship empty. I was burning about nine-fifteen tons a day, and on that, making fourteen or fifteen knots."

Drawing from Capt. Jewell the fact that the distance from Santiago to Key West is 880 miles, Mr. Rayner said: "In view of what you said just now, will you explain the signals I sent at 8:30 p.m., May 22, from the Minnesota?"

"What I did was to get enough coal to go to Key West." Minneapolis had passed the entrance to the harbor, the New Orleans and others following.

"On the run back across the harbor I again fired at 10,000 yards. The shot still fell short, and as the Massachusetts and New Orleans slowed down, and came after their screens, I slowed my engines, then increased the range to 11,000 yards and fired two shots from the forward 12-inch turret. The first one was fired by Lieut. Van Dusen at 11,000 yards, and the second shot fell short. Lieut. Hill had the other gun in that turret. I gave him the range at 11,000 yards, and he fired, and you explain that?"

"There is an error here of about 500 or 600 yards, and the Brooklyn is 100 or 1400 are very different."

"I estimated the distance I could steam. I did not usually provide for burning more than 100 tons of coal in the Minnesota, and I would have to allow for contingencies. I was burning the fires from the boilers very often on account of the leaky, stinking, fresh air in other boilers. My coal supply was variable. I could not depend upon it."

"Then, at this time, you just had enough, according to these signals, to get to Key West with less than 100 tons of coal on board," said the witness.

Admiral Evans was there, and can answer for himself. We want facts, not theories or opinions."

"This was your opinion?"

"It was my opinion that the Brooklyn was 100 or 1400 are very different."

"I estimated the distance I could steam. I did not usually provide for burning more than 100 tons of coal in the Minnesota, and I would have to allow for contingencies. I was burning the fires from the boilers very often on account of the leaky, stinking, fresh air in other boilers. My coal supply was variable. I could not depend upon it."

"Then, at this time, you just had enough, according to these signals, to get to Key West with less than 100 tons of coal on board," said the witness.

Admiral Evans was there, and can answer for himself. We want facts, not theories or opinions."

MACHINISTS GO BACK TO WORK BY SQUADS.

Expectation Prevails at the Golden Gate City That the Strike Will End Within Two Weeks---Men Shot.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS--P.M.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—A number of union stevedores attacked a non-union driver this afternoon at Seventh and Minna streets and a fusillade of shots was fired, with the result that Chris Ryan is lying in the Central Emergency Hospital, suffering from a bullet wound in his groin, while his brother John is at St. Mary's Hospital with a bullet wound through his thigh. The surgeons say both men will live, although their wounds are very serious.

The man who did the shooting is E. W. Gentry, a driver in the employ of the Western Transfer and Stage Company. He surrendered himself to the police after the shooting and was permitted to go on his way by order of the Chief of Police. His team became stalled and, on the advice of Special Officer Gentry, who was protecting him, he went to a corner to telephone for aid. He was attacked just after leaving this place and in defending himself, emptied his revolver into the crowd. The Ryans say they had nothing to do with the assault, but this is contradicted by Gentry.

Thirty-five machinists returned to work today, most of them in the National Iron Works, after having accepted, so the employers assert, the old hour schedule, but during the day the pickets got in their work, and at 5 o'clock last evening, after working nine hours, the greater number of the men ceased operations, with the announcement that they would not return again until the demands of the men were granted. May 20, it was granted.

A gain of ten machinists was made by the Standard Iron Works and eight by the Union Iron Works, and the pickets will rejoin tomorrow with their former workmen. Those who have followed the strike since its inception look upon it now as ended to all practical purposes, and predict that all the strikers will be at work tomorrow.

ON THE WATER FRONT.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS--A.M.) SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—It is believed that a dozen or more sailors have gone ashore and the pickets will rejoin tomorrow with their former workmen. Those who have followed the strike since its inception look upon it now as ended to all practical purposes, and predict that all the strikers will be at work tomorrow.

On the water front there was no especial change in the strike situation today. The streets were clear of union pickets and more free of disorder than any time since the strike began.

"The strikers, and the police regulations are more vigorously enforced that business is moving practically without interruption," says the San Francisco Association assert that the members of the organization are handling merchandise as rapidly as it is delivered to the port.

The authorities will prosecute at least two of the men arrested yesterday morning for alleged complicity in the Kearny-street riot. Petrolene John Youngman, John Miller, and John Miller received a personal message from Bogota, announcing a Cabinet crisis there. The dispatch came from his brother-in-law, Michael Aebia Medina, who in his appointment had succeeded in his appointment as Minister of Foreign Affairs. The belief prevails that the change was precipitated by differences among the Cabinet members.

Mr. Miller will prosecute at least two of the men arrested yesterday morning for alleged complicity in the Kearny-street riot. Petrolene John Youngman, John Miller, and John Miller, as having been members of the crowd that followed the five special policemen from the dance hall at Turk and Market street through the latter thoroughfare.

CHICAGO STRIKERS.

FAILED TO GET RECRUITS, (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS--A.M.) CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Trains on the South Side elevated road ran on schedule this morning. Pickets representing the strikers appeared at many of the stations, and on some of the trains, but it was found that they were unsuccessful in securing recruits.

The strikers today issued a statement to the public officially denying their responsibility for the attempt to derail a train at Thirty-fifth street last night.

COL. IRISH IN WASHINGTON. TALKS OF STRIKE CONDITIONS. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(Exclusive) Col. J. P. Irish of San Francisco came here yesterday and has been in touch with the strikers to this end in that city. He says that if the present condition of affairs continues much longer it will have to organize another strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking delegates directed the union draymen to haul where non-union men were not employed, thus dictating to the merchants as to whom they should employ.

On the eve of strike was ordered, which won the sympathy of the delegates and long to the satisfaction of the strikers, during forces. Pickets were let in to other committees and the strike, if it is not settled some other way. It brought home a deplorable condition of affairs, one crippling the trade of the city by stoppage of all building trades.

At the Golden Gate, just as Chicago was in the recent building trades strike, the conditions are exceedingly bad.

The freight and dray teams of Capt. James to the employment of non-union men.

Capt. James, the merchants. Their walking

85c

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1901.

SPORTING RECORD.

OFFERING ODDS ON COLUMBIA.

Two to One and Ten to Four Given.

Lipton Thinks Course Favors Shamrock.

New Baseball League Organized—Boston's Exhibition Victory—Race Results.

(INT DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At day today the odds in Wall street were 2 to 1 on the Columbia, and at the big up-town hotels to-night several small wagers were made at 2 to 1 and 10 to 4. Despite the fact that the America cup defender was Saturday's race by such a narrow margin, and the tomorrow's race by a triangular one, is regarded by Lipton as more favorable. The shorter than a straightaway course, the Columbia's supporters have unshaken faith in her ability to win.

The bet was recorded on the Stock Exchange today of $100 to $5 on the Columbia winning tomorrow's race. The offer was made of $100 even that the Columbia would win the two next races, making three straight wins and thus retaining the mug. Hugh L. Smyth & Co. bet $100 against $600 that the Columbia would win the next two races.

YESTERDAY'S WAIT.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Everyone is waiting for a favorite wind when the Columbia and Shamrock II meet to-morrow in the second race for the America's cup. Interest is turned to the Columbia's cup, and confidence is supreme on board the Erin and the Shamrock II, as it is with American yachtsmen. The course is to be triangular, ten miles to a leg, a mile and a half to the start, a mile and a reach, this, however, depending upon the wind. The start may be expected about 11:30 o'clock.

A rather wind, without too much wind, will be most favorable to-day, while the two great yachts lay at anchor in the horse-shoe of Sandy Hook. It was such a day as made the sailors on both the challenger and defender yachts nervous Saturday, and confidence is supreme on board the Erin and the Shamrock II, as it is with American yachtsmen.

The course is to be triangular, ten miles to a leg, a mile and a half to the start, a mile and a reach, this, however, depending upon the wind. The start may be expected about 11:30 o'clock.

FIGHT IN KANSAS CITY.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—A match has already been arranged between George Green, the local mid-eighteen, and Tommy Ryan, to take place October 10 before the Central Club of Kansas City. Green wired the club today that he would accept the match, if it increased the size of the purse offered. He is already in training for the match.

NATIONAL LEAGUE GAMES.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—Score.(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Scores: First game: St. Louis, 1; New York, 4. Second game: St. Louis, 6; New York, 8.(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
PHILADELPHIA-CINCINNATI.
CINCINNATI, Sept. 30.—Scores: First game: Cincinnati, 2; Philadelphia, 10. Second game: Cincinnati, 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Dobbs-Miller Draw.

(HALTIMORE (Md.) Sept. 30.—Hobby Dobbs, the colored lightweight of Minneapolis, and Herman Miller of Baltimore, fought twelve rounds to a draw yesterday. The Kickerbocker Athletic Club, and 200 persons saw it. The men fought ten rounds, and both were in fine condition.

In the twenty-first round Sullivan struck Brad rather low on the stomach, and the latter appeared to be in agony that many thought he was going out. He went through the round, however, the crowd howled and cheered him home, and came up in the next round, and, after some of the fastest fighting ever seen anywhere had the New York boy almost sure when his good saved him.

At the conclusion of the twenty-fifth round the referee declared Broad the winner.

ROAD EARNED VICTORY.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SAF FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Twenty-Cent Club has matched Jim Wallace, "Kid" Carter, in a second-round fight. Wallace, third, time 1:15.

Mile, selling: Joe Doughy won, Marcy second, Graine Wood third; time 1:43.

Mile, selling: Verity won, Lord Neville second, Nearest third; time 1:15.

Mile: Prior won, Prosper L. Gai second, Zone third; time 1:42.

Five furloings: Lady Strathearn won, Peanut second, Wax Paper third; time 1:27.

Mile, selling: Marion Lynch won, South Breeze second, Leon third; time 1:42.

Mourners at Gravesend.

(NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Al Gravesend, the "no recall" system of starting drew forth many words of complaint. Result:

About six furloings: Trump won, Slip Thru second, Arrah Gowain third; time 1:12.

Five and a half furloings: Whisky King won, Boundless second, Lady Strathmore third; time 1:08.

About six furloings: M. Addie won, Paul Clinton second, Autolight third; time 1:12.

Mile: And an eighth: The Rhymers won, Herkis second, Zermius third; time 1:55.

Five furloings: Batych won, Minib second, Octovron third; time 1:08.

Mile: And a sixteenth: Alpha won, Astro second, Bob's third; time 1:52.

Hawthorne Finishes.

(CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Six furloings: Emma R. won, Segura second, Irish Jewell third; time 1:11.

Four and a half furloings: Hargas won, Gallantine second, Coco third; time 1:13.

Six furloings: Sharp Bird won, Banco second, Rival Dark third; time 1:12.

Oak Park Handicap, mile and an eighth: Silverian won, Shit Shutter second, Nellie third; time 1:22.

Mile: S. Marcus won, Rollie Boer second, Orontas third; time 1:29.

Mile: Alfred C. won, Capt. Flannigan second, Evelyn Byrd third; time 1:41.

Mile: Canova won, Eligor second, J. H. Barnes third; time 1:41-2.

Mr. Corcoran: No, Willie, you couldn't have heard an owl this afternoon. Owls only hoot at night; they sleep during the day.

The Daily Graphic says: "The trangular course should be more favorable to the Shamrock II."

The Morning Post expresses a similar opinion.

The Daily Chronicle says: "Sir Thomas Lipton has considerable reason for his unflagging spirits. His yacht has astonished these American experts in every way. The Shamrock II is a notable quantity. We cherish the hope that in the next race it will blow hard."

HANDLER ROUGHLY HANDLED.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
TRENTON (N. J.) Sept. 30.—Joe Ganz of Baltimore tonight at the Trenton Athletic Club knocked out Jimmy Handler of Newark in the first round of what was to have been a two-round bout. In the two minutes Handler was knocked down four times by the colored man.

Handler opened the contest with jab and short leads, but Ganz easily avoided them. Ganz then got behind Handler and left to the jaw, and dropped him. Handler arose but sparred wildly, and was again put down. He was very groggy and barely able to stand. Ganz then laid him down, hit him again with a short swing on the chin. He arose quickly, when Ganz rushed and planted his left clearly on the jaw, sending Handler down again. Handler got to his knees and staggered toward the ropes, when he toppled over and was counted out.

NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—President P. T. Powers of the Eastern Baseball League, gave out a statement today that, in consequence of the National League's abrogation of the national agreement, all the professional baseball clubs in the United States and Canada, excepting the sixteen club members in the National and American leagues, have banded together to form an independent association under the name of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, of which Powers is the president.

BOSTON'S EXHIBITION VICTORY.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
BOSTON, Sept. 30.—The Boston Americans played a players' benefit exhibition today. Both sides presented patched up teams, and the game was uninteresting. Score, Boston, 7; Chicago, 2.

TROTTERS GO TO MEMPHIS.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Little Roy, 22, and fourteen other trotters and pacers belonging to C. K. G. Billings and F. U. Jones, are to be shipped to Memphis, Tenn., this week for the big trotting meeting at the track which Mr. Billings has just built there. Little Roy will make another attempt to lower the wagon record on the new course.

RYAN AND GREEN.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—A match has already been arranged between George Green, the local mid-eighteen, and Tommy Ryan, to take place October 10 before the Central Club of Kansas City. Green wired the club today that he would accept the match, if it increased the size of the purse offered. He is already in training for the match.

NATIONAL LEAGUE GAMES.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—Score.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Scores: First game: St. Louis, 1; New York, 4. Second game: St. Louis, 6; New York, 8.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
PHILADELPHIA-CINCINNATI.
CINCINNATI, Sept. 30.—Scores: First game: Cincinnati, 2; Philadelphia, 10. Second game: Cincinnati, 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Dobbs-Miller Draw.

(HALTIMORE (Md.) Sept. 30.—Hobby Dobbs, the colored lightweight of Minneapolis, and Herman Miller of Baltimore, fought twelve rounds to a draw yesterday. The Kickerbocker Athletic Club, and 200 persons saw it. The men fought ten rounds, and both were in fine condition.

In the twenty-first round Sullivan struck Brad rather low on the stomach, and the latter appeared to be in agony that many thought he was going out. He went through the round, however, the crowd howled and cheered him home, and came up in the next round, and, after some of the fastest fighting ever seen anywhere had the New York boy almost sure when his good saved him.

At the conclusion of the twenty-fifth round the referee declared Broad the winner.

ROAD EARNED VICTORY.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SAF FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Twenty-Cent Club has matched Jim Wallace, "Kid" Carter, in a second-round fight. Wallace, third, time 1:15.

Mile, selling: Joe Doughy won, Marcy second, Graine Wood third; time 1:43.

Mile, selling: Verity won, Lord Neville second, Nearest third; time 1:15.

Mile: Prior won, Prosper L. Gai second, Zone third; time 1:42.

Five furloings: Lady Strathearn won, Peanut second, Wax Paper third; time 1:27.

Mile, selling: Marion Lynch won, South Breeze second, Leon third; time 1:42.

Mourners at Gravesend.

(NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Al Gravesend, the "no recall" system of starting drew forth many words of complaint. Result:

About six furloings: Trump won, Slip Thru second, Arrah Gowain third; time 1:12.

Five and a half furloings: Whisky King won, Boundless second, Lady Strathmore third; time 1:08.

About six furloings: M. Addie won, Paul Clinton second, Autolight third; time 1:12.

Mile: And an eighth: The Rhymers won, Herkis second, Zermius third; time 1:55.

Five furloings: Batych won, Minib second, Octovron third; time 1:08.

Mile: And a sixteenth: Alpha won, Astro second, Bob's third; time 1:52.

Hawthorne Finishes.

(CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Six furloings: Emma R. won, Segura second, Irish Jewell third; time 1:11.

Four and a half furloings: Hargas won, Gallantine second, Coco third; time 1:13.

Six furloings: Sharp Bird won, Banco second, Rival Dark third; time 1:12.

Oak Park Handicap, mile and an eighth: Silverian won, Shit Shutter second, Nellie third; time 1:22.

Mile: S. Marcus won, Rollie Boer second, Orontas third; time 1:29.

Mile: Alfred C. won, Capt. Flannigan second, Evelyn Byrd third; time 1:41.

Mile: Canova won, Eligor second, J. H. Barnes third; time 1:41-2.

Mr. Corcoran: No, Willie, you couldn't have heard an owl this afternoon. Owls only hoot at night; they sleep during the day.

The Daily Graphic says: "The trangular course should be more favorable to the Shamrock II."

The Morning Post expresses a similar opinion.

The Daily Chronicle says: "Sir Thomas Lipton has considerable reason for his unflagging spirits. His yacht has astonished these American experts in every way. The Shamrock II is a notable quantity. We cherish the hope that in the next race it will blow hard."

HANDLER ROUGHLY HANDLED.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
TRENTON (N. J.) Sept. 30.—Joe Ganz of Baltimore tonight at the Trenton Athletic Club knocked out Jimmy Handler of Newark in the first round of what was to have been a two-round bout. In the two minutes Handler was knocked down four times by the colored man.

Handler opened the contest with jab

Los Angeles Daily Times.

HOMESTEAD
FILING LAW.It Is Much in Need of Amendment.Used to Acquire Land
Fraudulently.The Law Should Be Made to Apply to Arid Lands and Prevent Perjury.

BY J. D. WHEELER.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

DENVER (Colo.) Sept. 25.—The state law, after having accomplished a magnitude of good, is now in need of amendment.

Such a law would apply to all classes of land.

This law should also cover the provision that a homesteader must have at least three years' time in which to first establish his residence upon the land before he began to serve the five-year term.

During this preliminary three years, however, he should be required to prove proof of his claim to the land by filing a suit in the court of claims.

The principal use of the homestead act as it stands today is for the fraudulent acquisition of cattle and horses.

Individuals who are now protecting themselves against the gradual contraction of the range and the absorption of land.

The homestead law is not designed to encourage the settlement of arid lands, and the homestead law is not designed to encourage the settlement of arid lands.

The homestead law is not designed to encourage the settlement of arid lands.

The homestead law is not designed to encourage the settlement of arid lands.

The homestead law is not designed to encourage the settlement of arid lands.

The homestead law is not designed to encourage the settlement of arid lands.

The homestead law is not designed to encourage the settlement of arid lands.

The homestead law is not designed to encourage the settlement of arid lands.

The homestead law is not designed to encourage the settlement of arid lands.

The homestead law is not designed to encourage the settlement of arid lands.

The homestead law is not designed to encourage the settlement of arid lands.

The homestead law is not designed to encourage the settlement

THE WEATHER.

COMPARATIVE TEMPERATURES.

	Max.	Min.	Max.	Min.
Boston	72	62	72	62
Washington	72	62	72	62
Cincinnati	72	62	72	62
Chicago	72	62	72	62
Kansas City	72	62	72	62
Jacksonville	72	62	72	62
New York	72	62	72	62
Los Angeles	72	62	72	62

The temperature is for September 29; the minimum for September 28. The mean is the average temperature for the two days.

Yesterday's Report and Forecast.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Calif. (Reported by George E. Franklin, loco. manager) At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 30.25 in. at 8 a.m., 30.26 in. at 12 m., 30.27 in. at 4 p.m., 30.28 in. at 8 p.m. Thermometer, 68° F. Relative humidity, 56% a.m.; 58% at 12 m.; 60% at 4 p.m.; 62% at 8 p.m. Wind, 5 a.m.; 6 a.m.; 7 a.m.; 8 a.m.; 9 a.m.; 10 a.m.; 11 a.m.; 12 m.; 1 p.m.; 2 p.m.; 3 p.m.; 4 p.m.; 5 p.m.; 6 p.m.; 7 p.m.; 8 p.m. Maximum temperature, 72 degrees. Rainfall past twenty-four hours, .01 in. of rain. Barometer reduced to 30.26 in.

Weather Conditions.—There is a considerable depression this morning, reaching from the Colorado Valley, and the map shows the approach to winter conditions. Weather conditions along the Coast, with the exception of a few places, rain has stopped at most of the reporting stations. Rain has had 1.2 inches, and Fresno, 6.0. During the night, an inch fell at Los Angeles. There was a trace during the morning. The temperature continues below normal, and is expected to remain so through the vicinity of Los Angeles, and the reports are from Idaho.

Forecast.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and Southern California: Light showers tonight and early Saturday. Probably showers again Saturday. Change to mostly cloudy Sunday. Weather conditions for San Francisco: A strictly first-class, reliable agency. All kinds of weather promptly furnished. Your concerns solicited.

300 W. Second St., basement, California Bank Building. Telephone 500.

Offices open from 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., except Sunday.)

SPECIAL NOTICES.

LACE CURTAINS LAUNDERED BY HAND, He pair, MRS. GRACE HARRIS & CO., 20 Broad- way. Tel. James 6261. Goods called for.

EXCUSE FOR ACCIDENT—FIDELITY BUIL- DING, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

GENERAL AGENT, 515 Main St., City of Los Angeles.

WITNESS TO YOUR ACCIDENT—EDWARD NITTINGER, 226 S. Spring.

WANTED—COMPETENT AND EXPERT- EMPLOYMENT can find permanent em- ployment at K. M. VANDERKAM'S DRESSMAK- ING PARLORS, Vanderveldt, Pasadena.

WANTED—A FIRST-CLASS DRESSMAKER to exchange work by day or course in the Angeles Business College, 212 Third St., Los Angeles.

WANTED—LADY AGENTS, COOKS WAIT-ERS, housekeepers, chambermaids, etc., at present. Employment Office, 217 West 5th St., Mrs. Wm. Doherty.

NICELY FURNISHED ROOMS AT HOTEL VENICE, 430 S. Main St., by day or night.

BEAT PAINT, 600 G. GALT, 102 W. Lincoln shades, Inc.

WALTER L. COLE, 102 W. Lincoln.

FOR TRUNKS AND BAGS, W. R. PECK, manufacturer, 210 Spring St., Tel. Joseph 6261.

CASH WALL, PAINTER AND SPRAYER, Paper-hanging, painting, tiling.

WHITEY'S TRUNK FACTORY, 210 Spring St., Tel. Joseph 6261.

SMITH & BROADWAY, 112 W. SIXTH ST., SUIT CLEANING BY THE MONTH, Tel. 6261.

WANTED—DELIVERY BOY WITH WHEEL,

112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

WANTED—BOY WITH WHEEL, 112 W. SIXTH ST., LOS ANGELES.

</div

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—IN THE OFFICES AND COURTS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

At the session of the Council yesterday Mr. Bowen read a minority report on his liquor ordinances, in which he charged the majority with being controlled by the lawless saloon element. Another postponement was taken with reference to the petitions asking change in the gas limits.

A strong fight was made yesterday to pass a demand in favor of Swensen Hill, which may have been fraught with grave consequences to the city.

The Council yesterday made the same fee for sparring exhibitions $100 instead of $2, as heretofore.

The building report of Inspector Parsons shows a decided increase over last year.

Judge Smith, who is ill, hopes to be back in the criminal court again on Friday.

The trial of J. Ross Winters, charged with the murder of his wife in May, was postponed from yesterday to November 5.

Thirty-eight jurors were accepted yesterday as the new term-trial panel for the criminal court.

The Los Angeles-Pasadena Railway company has asked the Supervisors for franchise to Alhambra.

The salary of the superintendent of a County Hospital has been reduced to $100 a month to $50. That of the steward has been increased from $40 to $50 a month.

County Stock and Meat Inspector H. C. Higginson rendered his monthly report yesterday.

Mr. Town is suing the Towsley Oil Company for $3000 on an oil contract.

English Robinson, the fighting coon, is arraigned in the Police Court yesterday to do penance for a free fight which he stirred up on the "hobo corner" Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Brittain, while drunk, threatened to dynamite a railroad station the other night, and was brought up yesterday in the Police Court.

AT THE CITY HALL.

LOT SHOT FIRED BY COUNCILMAN BOWEN.

CUSES MAJORITY OF BEING UNDER SALOON-KEEPERS LAKE

Exception Taken to the Remarks of the Fifth Ward Member and Obscene Paragraph Stricken from the Report on Gas Limits—Page Must Pay.

As expected, the Committee on Legislation presented a majority report yesterday signed by Lauder and Blanchard recommending that the liquor ordinance introduced by Bowen be filed.

The verdict was foreseen when the measures were referred to the committee one week ago, but the reference was accepted by Mr. Bowen as a formality.

Then the matter came up yesterday, and with whom the liquor question always a delicate subject, Bowen in a minority report, to which violent opposition was taken by some of the members. Following this, there were oral votes on the disposal of the report, and when the smoke cleared away Mr. Bowen was surprised to find he had secured the passage of less-important ordinance.

The total result of the fight is a new section of a restaurant and a majority on wine constitution measure.

The Council brought forth a motion, Bowen says, he believes in them, "if you can't get a whole loaf, a few crumb." According to the ordinance a restaurant is a place where food is served to the public ready to eat, and when the smoke cleared away Mr. Bowen was surprised to find he had secured the passage of less-important ordinance.

After straining at a mouse, Bowen says, he believes in them, "if you can't get a whole loaf, a few crumb." According to the ordinance a restaurant is a place where food is served to the public ready to eat, and when the smoke cleared away Mr. Bowen was surprised to find he had secured the passage of less-important ordinance.

On the first signs of rain a permanent demand for public places to the Council was made by Mr. Bowen.

Some of the same kind would be imposed from selling liquor with a at any time during the hours in which saloons must be kept closed, and a restaurant and a restaurant and an unnecessary section upon individuals."

A statement made in the report was refuted time and time again by Bowen, but the committee majority held the matter through the point of glass.

Finally upon the presentation of majority report, Mr. Bowen rose and said:

"That the present liquor law is inefficient and inadequate to meet existing conditions, no one has or will be able to furnish a more satisfactory alternative."

That while the ordinances are not perfect, they are not doubt that their adoption will greatly facilitate the enforcement of all laws and wholesome conditions in the city.

That every saloon keeper will be upon an equal footing before the law.

That further, I favor the passage of these ordinances because a majority of my honorable colleagues placed them in the public square."

Second—That while the ordinances presented are not perfect, they are not doubt that their adoption will greatly facilitate the enforcement of all laws and wholesome conditions in the city.

Third—That every saloon keeper will be upon an equal footing before the law.

Fourth—That the present liquor law is inefficient and inadequate to meet existing conditions, no one has or will be able to furnish a more satisfactory alternative."

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

My reasons have arisen since said ordinance facing about upon said ordinances are not apparent to your committee, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and when the same was placed upon its passage, your Committee on Legislation voted solidly in favor of the same.

On July 11, 1901, your Committee on Gas Limits voted solidly in favor of an ordinance, the main feature of which is identically the same as the ordinances here presented, and

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1901.

SIXTY-FIVE COOKS
IN NEW ASSOCIATION*SHAKE OFF THE TYRANNY OF JIM GRAY'S COUNCIL

Organization Entirely Outside of the Union—All the Leading Chefs of the City Have Declared Their Independence of Chef Gray.

"It wasn't a square deal before; henceforth we will be independent and protect ourselves." Such was the sentiment toward labor organizations, past, present and future, which dominated an enthusiastic meeting of the newly-conceived Southern California Cooks Association, held last night in the rooms of the Southern California Waiters' Association, No. 110 West Second street.

Tired of being the victims of the walking delegate and his kind, the cooks of the city last night organized themselves into a permanent independent body, outside of the union, and claimed their right to run their living after their own fashion, without dictation from professional labor rulers.

The leading chefs of the city joined in the meeting last night, among them being Henry Le Cante of the Westminster, E. L. Testra of the Del Monte, A. Hartman of the Imperial, Rodrick Greenfield of the Van Nuys, Daniel Tacher of the California Club, and Charles Stuart of Los Angeles.

The following were elected officers of the association: J. C. Brooks of the Richelle, president; Henry Le Cante, vice-president; J. W. Way, former manager of the Lowe Hotel, secretary; A. Hartman, treasurer. The board of directors, chosen two weeks previous, took their seat during the meeting. Miss McLean was reelected president by an overwhelming majority.

Santa Ana Ebell.

The first meeting of the season of the Santa Ana Ebell Society was held Saturday afternoon with a full attendance, this being the eighth year of existence for the society. After a short session of respite in memory of Miss Ada Galloway and Mrs. Z. P. Foster, the society listened to an interesting and instructive address by Mrs. Lou V. Chapin of Los Angeles on "Clothes and Manners."

A circular letter will immediately be sent to all hotels throughout California and Arizona, saying that the association is prepared to furnish cooks free of cost.

Already sixty-five members are enrolled, and the spirit manifested last night promises success for the organization.

It was decided to keep a list of all kitchens here, either the cooks, so that an entire kitchen crew may be furnished to an employer on short notice.

E. F. Lakeman, president of the Waiters' Association, made some remarks before the meeting adjourned, warning the brokers not to make any more effort than the waiters.

A vote of thanks was tendered by the cooks to the waiters, and on motion of Daniel Tacher of the California Club, a vote of thanks was tendered to the newspaper which had upheld and encouraged the new organization.

The meeting adjourned to meet Monday evening, October 7.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Ebell Society.

The second regular meeting of the Ebell Society for the club year took place yesterday afternoon. Mrs. E. T. Pettigrew, first vice-president, in the chair. After some preliminary business, an Irish folksong by Poole, rendered by Mrs. George Williams, and Mrs. Peacock, was then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, expressing, in so doing, the pleasure of the club in welcoming her again to the family circle.

Mrs. Burdette's address was a strong plea for clear careful thought and vigorous action on the vital questions of the hour. She opened her remarks with a reference to the nation's habits, asking "Why?" and "What for?" which begins with the child and by which it acquires knowledge. "Up to a certain point," she said in part, "we have our 'why' and 'what for,' but what is the source of all information in the universe came into our lives, we asked our husbands 'Why?' and then we began to ask of our own hearts 'Why?' Or do we ask it?"

"Why are you a club woman? I do not ask why you became a club woman. Some of you came into the clubs because you wished to be amused, some because you wanted relaxation, some because you desired development along certain lines, which the club afforded you opportunity. Whatever it was consider it a good bridge that brought you to us. I ask you today, however, to stop and consider where you are here. Will you tell me why it is that most clubs—and other organizations—few carry the burdens? You may take your religion home to your churches. You answer 'Because like it.' But if we would ask the workers they would say: 'We like the work we do; therefore we do it.'

"What the world needs today is capable women—women of real influence, able to do the thing which they desire to do. You know how many incapable women are coming into our homes and asking for means to support themselves. It seems to me that the club problem can not be solved unless it makes women more capable. And when the women of the State federation meet in February, the women of the other parts of the State shall find that we know what we are there for, and that when the biennial comes to Los Angeles it shall find that we know what we want to do and how to do it."

The State of California is the biggest State in the federation. It has 76 cities and in them 600 women, lacking only one. The State federation has power in its hands that no other can comprehend. We have taken up a few questions—forestry, circulating libraries, and one or two other matters. But the time has come when, however conservative we may be, we have no right to be silent on the problems confronting the nation. To be content to remain on civil government, to play a small part in our little parliamentary circles, to lift our eyebrows in mute acquiescence, comes from the study of Browning and Ruskin, while the old school of our pleasant club rooms is still with the awful mutterings of the storm which threatens home and country—this is wrong. Nero's fiddling while Rome was burning, fails to have gathered to no purpose. It is only American womanhood now to be heard. If we shrink from expressing our sentiments at this time, what shall the voice of the people say to us?

"What shall we do? Let literary culture and social intercourse, 'intellectual improvement and needlework.' We study art and poetry, and all the other avocational objects for which clubs are formed stand aside for five minutes while we voice our abhorrence of the foulest crime that darkens the history of the human race, the suppression of our sons and husbands, who hold the power of legislation, to purge this land of these crying evils—to say that the law shall not be shaped to foster the spirit which only object to the perpetration of the law. The bag of the free shall not offer a safe asylum to assassins of liberty; to purify the governments of the cities from the taint and disease of demagogism and corruption. That is what we are federated for—to stand together at a time like this and by the power of united purpose help create a public sentiment and opinion that will have the force of invincible conviction."

Mrs. Burdette gave some account of the division of the State into club sections and a short description, which was received with applause, of the meetings. Some of the clubs in the Senate house, addressed by herself.

Mrs. Pettigrew made brief reference to the end event by which the clubs have been deprived of the president, which she observed to be imminent, and called upon the president elected to fill the vacancy. Mrs. J. W. Cowles, to address the meeting. Mrs. Cowles made a few remarks, asking the support of the clubs for the work of the board. The appointment of Mr. R. W. Burnham as delegate to the coming annual session of the Woman's Parliament of Southern California committee, and the business of the afternoon, and the clubs therewith adjourned for a social meeting, at which light refreshments were served.

Carpinteria Club.

The Woman's Club, formerly the C. L. Club, of Carpinteria held its first meeting under the new constitution at the house of Mrs. Leescher, Saturday.

Miss Morris, Mrs. Morris and Miss Craven gave spicy papers on different subjects of French history of the eighteenth century. The new officers, chosen two weeks previous, took their seats during the meeting. Miss McLennan was reelected president by an overwhelming majority.

Santa Ana Ebell.

The first meeting of the season of the Santa Ana Ebell Society was held Saturday afternoon with a full attendance, this being the eighth year of existence for the society. After a short session of respite in memory of

Miss Ada Galloway and Mrs. Z. P. Foster, the society listened to an interesting and instructive address by Mrs. Lou V. Chapin of Los Angeles on "Clothes and Manners."

A circular letter will immediately be sent to all hotels throughout California and Arizona, saying that the association is prepared to furnish cooks free of cost.

Already sixty-five members are enrolled, and the spirit manifested last night promises success for the organization.

It was decided to keep a list of all kitchens here, either the cooks, so that an entire kitchen crew may be furnished to an employer on short notice.

E. F. Lakeman, president of the Waiters' Association, made some remarks before the meeting adjourned, warning the brokers not to make any more effort than the waiters.

A vote of thanks was tendered by the cooks to the waiters, and on motion of Daniel Tacher of the California Club, a vote of thanks was tendered to the newspaper which had upheld and encouraged the new organization.

The meeting adjourned to meet Monday evening, October 7.

THE MINING FIELDS.

TRAIL OF THE DOLLAR IN MANY METALS.

STUDYING MINERAL DEPOSITS IN SOUTHERN COUNTIES.

State Officer Aubry in Los Angeles Laying Out a Plan of Investigation for the Benefit of Those Interested in Mining.

State Mineralogist Lewis E. Aubry is making a tour of the State in Los Angeles planning a somewhat elaborate investigation of several kinds of mineral deposits in Southern California.

Since he came south Mr. Aubry has made arrangements to have compiled a mineral map and register of Santa Barbara County, which map will show the locations of the various asphalt, oil and other deposits. He has begun map of that kind of Kern and San Diego counties and contemplates a similar register of the mines of San Bernardino county.

Under Mr. Aubry's direction two assistants are here preparing for field work. One of them will investigate the nitre and borax deposits of Javio, San Bernardino and Ventura counties, and will also examine the saline deposits in other parts of Southern California.

Prof. George E. Bailey will have charge of that work, and the data collected will be issued in a special bulletin.

There are in this part of the State a few copper properties which, owing to the extreme heat of the desert, have not yet been examined, but are about to receive official attention.

When that shall have been completed and a small amount of field work remaining to be done in Del Norte county shall have been finished, the copper bulletin will be ready for publication.

Mr. Aubry believes that the bulletin will prove a revelation to those interested in mining, as nothing of the kind concerning the copper industry of the State has heretofore been published.

Assistants are examining the quicksilver deposits in the northern part of the State. Southern California will also receive attention along that line, and the results of the investigations are to be made the subject of a special bulletin.

"Why are you pursuing certain lines of work? Why have you put certain plans into effect in your family? Have you considered that? Have you disengaged them from your family? Have you reflected whether they are in themselves the very best plans to be applied in this instance? What are your purposes? Your objects in carrying them out?"

"Why are you a club woman? I do not ask why you became a club woman. Some of you came into the clubs because you wished to be amused, some because you wanted relaxation, some because you desired development along certain lines, which the club afforded you opportunity. Whatever it was consider it a good bridge that brought you to us. I ask you today, however, to stop and consider where you are here. Will you tell me why it is that most clubs—and other organizations—few carry the burdens? You may take your religion home to your churches. You answer 'Because like it.' But if we would ask the workers they would say: 'We like the work we do; therefore we do it.'

"What the world needs today is capable women—women of real influence, able to do the thing which they desire to do. You know how many incapable women are coming into our homes and asking for means to support themselves. It seems to me that the club problem can not be solved unless it makes women more capable. And when the women of the State federation meet in February, the women of the other parts of the State shall find that we know what we are there for, and that when the biennial comes to Los Angeles it shall find that we know what we want to do and how to do it."

The State of California is the biggest State in the federation. It has 76 cities and in them 600 women, lacking only one. The State federation has power in its hands that no other can comprehend. We have taken up a few questions—forestry, circulating libraries, and one or two other matters. But the time has come when, however conservative we may be, we have no right to be silent on the problems confronting the nation. To be content to remain on civil government, to play a small part in our little parliamentary circles, to lift our eyebrows in mute acquiescence, comes from the study of Browning and Ruskin, while the old school of our pleasant club rooms is still with the awful mutterings of the storm which threatens home and country—this is wrong. Nero's fiddling while Rome was burning, fails to have gathered to no purpose. It is only American womanhood now to be heard. If we shrink from expressing our sentiments at this time, what shall the voice of the people say to us?

"What shall we do? Let literary culture and social intercourse, 'intellectual improvement and needlework.'

We study art and poetry, and all the other avocational objects for which clubs are formed stand aside for five minutes while we voice our abhorrence of the foulest crime that darkens the history of the human race, the suppression of our sons and husbands, who hold the power of legislation, to purge this land of these crying evils—to say that the law shall not be shaped to foster the spirit which only object to the perpetration of the law. The bag of the free shall not offer a safe asylum to assassins of liberty; to purify the governments of the cities from the taint and disease of demagogism and corruption. That is what we are federated for—to stand together at a time like this and by the power of united purpose help create a public sentiment and opinion that will have the force of invincible conviction."

Mrs. Burdette gave some account of the division of the State into club sections and a short description, which was received with applause, of the meetings. Some of the clubs in the Senate house, addressed by herself.

Mrs. Pettigrew made brief reference to the end event by which the clubs have been deprived of the president, which she observed to be imminent, and called upon the president elected to fill the vacancy. Mrs. J. W. Cowles, to address the meeting. Mrs. Cowles made a few remarks, asking the support of the clubs for the work of the board. The appointment of Mr. R. W. Burnham as delegate to the coming annual session of the Woman's Parliament of Southern California committee, and the business of the afternoon, and the clubs therewith adjourned for a social meeting, at which light refreshments were served.

Carpinteria Club.

The Woman's Club, formerly the C. L. Club, of Carpinteria held its first meeting under the new constitution at the house of Mrs. Leescher, Saturday.

Miss Morris, Mrs. Morris and Miss Craven gave spicy papers on different subjects of French history of the eighteenth century. The new officers, chosen two weeks previous, took their seats during the meeting. Miss McLennan was reelected president by an overwhelming majority.

Santa Ana Ebell.

The first meeting of the season of the Santa Ana Ebell Society was held Saturday afternoon with a full attendance, this being the eighth year of existence for the society. After a short session of respite in memory of

Miss Ada Galloway and Mrs. Z. P. Foster, the society listened to an interesting and instructive address by Mrs. Lou V. Chapin of Los Angeles on "Clothes and Manners."

A circular letter will immediately be sent to all hotels throughout California and Arizona, saying that the association is prepared to furnish cooks free of cost.

Already sixty-five members are enrolled, and the spirit manifested last night promises success for the organization.

It was decided to keep a list of all kitchens here, either the cooks, so that an entire kitchen crew may be furnished to an employer on short notice.

E. F. Lakeman, president of the Waiters' Association, made some remarks before the meeting adjourned, warning the brokers not to make any more effort than the waiters.

A vote of thanks was tendered by the cooks to the waiters, and on motion of Daniel Tacher of the California Club, a vote of thanks was tendered to the newspaper which had upheld and encouraged the new organization.

The meeting adjourned to meet Monday evening, October 7.

THE MINING FIELDS.

STUDYING MINERAL DEPOSITS IN SOUTHERN COUNTIES.

State Officer Aubry in Los Angeles Laying Out a Plan of Investigation for the Benefit of Those Interested in Mining.

State Mineralogist Lewis E. Aubry is making a tour of the State in Los Angeles planning a somewhat elaborate investigation of several kinds of mineral deposits in Southern California.

Since he came south Mr. Aubry has made arrangements to have compiled a mineral map and register of Santa Barbara County, which map will show the locations of the various asphalt, oil and other deposits. He has begun map of that kind of Kern and San Diego counties and contemplates a similar register of the mines of San Bernardino county.

Under Mr. Aubry's direction two assistants are here preparing for field work. One of them will investigate the nitre and borax deposits of Javio, San Bernardino and Ventura counties, and will also examine the saline deposits in other parts of Southern California.

Prof. George E. Bailey will have charge of that work, and the data collected will be issued in a special bulletin.

There are in this part of the State a few copper properties which, owing to the extreme heat of the desert, have not yet been examined, but are about to receive official attention.

When that shall have been completed and a small amount of field work remaining to be done in Del Norte county shall have been finished, the copper bulletin will be ready for publication.

Mr. Aubry believes that the bulletin will prove a revelation to those interested in mining, as nothing of the kind concerning the copper industry of the State has heretofore been published.

Assistants are examining the quicksilver deposits in the northern part of the State. Southern California will also receive attention along that line, and the results of the investigations are to be made the subject of a special bulletin.

"Why are you pursuing certain lines of work? Why have you put certain plans into effect in your family? Have you considered that? Have you disengaged them from your family? Have you reflected whether they are in themselves the very best plans to be applied in this instance? What are your purposes? Your objects in carrying them out?"

"Why are you a club woman? I do not ask why you became a club woman. Some of you came into the clubs because you wished to be amused, some because you wanted relaxation, some because you desired development along certain lines, which the club afforded you opportunity. Whatever it was consider it a good bridge that brought you to us. I ask you today, however, to stop and consider where you are here. Will you tell me why it is that most clubs—and other organizations—few carry the burdens? You may take your religion home to your churches. You answer 'Because like it.' But if we would ask the workers they would say: 'We like the work we do; therefore we do it.'

"What the world needs today is capable women—women of real influence, able to do the thing which they desire to do. You know how many incapable women are coming into our homes and asking for means to support themselves. It seems to me that the club problem can not be solved unless it makes women more capable. And when the women of the State federation meet in February, the women of the other parts of the State shall find that we know what we are there for, and that when the biennial comes to Los Angeles it shall find that we know what we want to do and how to do it."

The State of California is the biggest State in the federation. It has 76 cities and in them 600 women, lacking only one. The State federation has power in its hands that no other can comprehend. We have taken up a few questions—forestry, circulating libraries, and one or two other matters. But the time has come when, however conservative we may be, we have no right to be silent on the problems confronting the nation. To be content to remain on civil government, to play a small part in our little parliamentary circles, to lift our eyebrows in mute acquiescence, comes from the study of Browning and Ruskin, while the old school of our pleasant club rooms is still with the awful mutterings of the storm which threatens home and country—this is wrong. Nero's fiddling while Rome was burning, fails to have gathered to no purpose. It is only American womanhood now to be heard. If we shrink from expressing our sentiments at this time, what shall the voice of the people say to us?

"What shall we do? Let literary culture and social intercourse, 'intellectual improvement and needlework.'

We study art

LOCAL SPORTING RECORD.
GOOD DAY FOR FAVORITES.

Baldwin's Stable Makes Two Winnings.

Ho You's Solo Had Too Much Dragon.

Escalante Takes the Jonathan Club Stake—McKenna a Surprise—Fair.

It was a day for favorites at Agriculture Park yesterday, and the long shots were among the also rans.

Owing to the threatening condition of the weather the attendance was considerably smaller than on the opening day, but the bookies did a big business just the same.

Only one of the harness events panned out, but the running features of the card were well up to the standard, although there was not one exciting finish during the day.

The feature of Solo, Chinese Consul-General You's Solo, which made even a showing in the 2:25 race was a disappointment to that gentleman and many others who backed him as a sure winner. But Solo was not in form.

"Farmer" Bunch, who handled the ribbons over the bay, wore a blouse of blue silk on the back of which was embroidered a gorgeous dragon in many-colored silks.

After his failure to land the winner someone asked Bunch why the favorite was forced to take such a fall.

"I said it was," said Bunch as he turned his back on the questioner, "that we had too much dragon."

Another feature of the day was the success of the "Lucky" Baldwin stakes, the red maltese cross passing the wire with two firsts and one second.

EXHIBITION FACE.

An exhibition, the 2:25 race, which was the first event on the card, was a success, as a race; there was a good deal left to the imagination. Out of a field of twelve entries, but two sidewheeler lined up for the start, and one so outclassed the other that the result was a foregone conclusion.

The race brought out Midnight, who was driven by Frank Clegg, and Chief, handled by F. Cody. In the opening betting Midnight was the favorite at even money, while Chief sold 2 to 1.

In the first heat Midnight took the lead, and held it all the way around. Chief made a grand effort in the stretch to pass the favorite, but couldn't show the speed. Midnight winning by a good half length.

Again in the second heat, Midnight, out of the lead and held it with little trouble, the entire distance, winning in a jolt.

The books would take no Midnight money for the third heat, but would only give 8 to 1 on Chief, who was a 2 to 1 shot or more, as his only chance of winning was in case the favorite should suddenly expire.

Chief started off with a burst of speed in this heat that carried him to the quarter a good distance before the favorite. At the time he was traveling along almost three lengths to the good, and there was rejoicing among those who held the lead end of the book. But their joy was short lived, for at the three-quarter post it was evident that Midnight was on the turn, they were in the stretch, it was neck and neck, but at that stage of the game Midnight seemed to unhinge and away he went, crossing the tape six lengths to the good.

SUMMARY.

Two twenty-five pace, three in five heats, purse $700:

Midnight (J. Younghusband)..... 1 1 1

Chief (F. C. Cody)..... 2 2 2

Time 1:26. 2:25. 2:21.

MCKENNA TAKES TROT.

Four heats were necessary to decide the 2:25 trot, which brought out Rosell, Almonds, McKenna, Briney K., Cornelius D. and Solo.

Solo, the property of Ho You, was the favorite in the auction pool, and was picked by the bookies to win, so taking up the lead to five and a half lengths. McKenna was there with the stuff by two good lengths.

Almonds and the latter was leading Cornelius D by half. Both Solo and Rosell finding it convenient to keep their distance, which was something like ten lengths to the bad.

In the back stretch Almonds was making the best of his time and had gained a length over McKenna at the half. Solo was also put to work, and between the quarter and half-mile points captured third place after passing Rosell, Cornelius D. and Solo.

It was noted that Solo was the fourth.

There was little change in the betting for the second heat. Solo was still favorite, as it was believed that Solo's poor start was responsible for her failure.

In spite of McKenna's excellent showing she sold four to one, with Cornelius D. and Solo.

Again there was a surprise for the patient. As in the first heat Almonds took the lead and held it to the stretch.

As they entered the stretch it was anybody's race who had saved in the sprint, but this proved to be McKenna.

McKenna was equal to the task and overhauled Cornelius D. at the wire, passing him by half a length.

Third place the fight between Solo and Almonds was won by the latter, and Almonds was won by two and a half lengths.

With a field of four left the betting resolved itself into an even money proposition on McKenna and Solo, there being a sneaking idea that the latter might be able to land at least one heat. Almonds and Cornelius D. were offered at three to one.

The heat was eaten up by McKenna, and Solo third. The fourth and last mile was also easy money. The Denison stables, and the offspring of McKinney and Etta Wilks jogged home in 2:19½, a winner of heat, race and first money.

SUMMARY.

The 2:25 trot, three in five heats, purse $700:

McKenna (C. Dennison)..... 2 1 1 1

Cornelius D. (W. S. Maben)..... 4 2 2 2

Almond (Ho You)..... 1 2 2 3

Rosell (K. (F. Keller))..... 5 dis.

Briney K. (F. Keller)..... 5 dis.

Time: 2:19. 2:19½. 2:19. 2:19½.

REINA DE CUBA SPINTS.

Eleven starters lined up at the gate for the four-and-one-half-furlong selling race for four-year-olds. Finesse, the winner of Saturday's dash, was the favorite with Howard, both selling at 2 to 1. Reina de Cuba was placed by some 2 to 1, with the odds on the daughter of the Empress of Norfolk showed her blood and heels by leading the field home.

The favorite was away at the start, but Solo Colorado and Miss Dividend crowding him all the way to the stretch. But the gait was strong, and Finesse found the bunch too willing, and reigned the lead to Black Orphan.

He ran to the wire, which was taken by Reina de Cuba, and Ramson hacked with the whip. It was a close run with Orphan to the wire, but the Baldwin colors passed under a half length to the good over Orphan, who beat Howard.

SUMMARY.

Running, selling, four and one-half furlongs, for four-year-olds and upward:

Reina de Cuba (E. J. Baldwin)..... 1

Black Orphan (Zahn Brown)..... 2

Howard (C. Murray)..... 3

Time 0:57½.

JONATHAN CLUB STAKES.

Escalante was picked to win the Jonathan Club Stakes, and there was no hitch in the programme. Five galloping horses lined up for the five-furlong dash, and of that number the Baldwin stakes entered Escalante and El Chihuahua.

The game little two-year-old jumped away at the start and was never in danger of losing the race. At the fourteenth pole the favorite led by four lengths, and was the winner of Saturday's sprinting race.

Of White Phoenix Rocks, one of the popular breeds, but eight are exhibited. General French and Princess, former winners, are the popular birds.

Five Buff Rocks are all of this variety shown, and they are not up in size or weight.

The big picture birds, Light Brahmas, are not up in size, and those shown are undersized, a common fault of this variety in California.

Black Langshans are a class by themselves, and compose a fine exhibit.

Mediterranean classes are scarce, only a small showing of Leghorns, some Hamburgs and Polish being shown, and they are mostly disqualified.

Indian Runner ducks are the newest and most-talked-of exhibit in this class.

They are the only ducks that do not make a noise and keep a constant watch over their nests at night.

The usual showing of bantams is made, mostly Buff Cochins.

Judging is to commence today, by S. Tyler of Pasadena, using the committee system.

HOGS AND OTHER HOGS.

One mile, selling, for four-year-olds:

Escalante (Baldwin & Co.)..... 1

El Chihuahua (Baldwin & Co.)..... 2

Fox (L. A. Blasingame)..... 3

Time 1:03.

MILE IN GOOD TIME.

One mile, selling, for four-year-olds:

Escalante (Baldwin & Co.)..... 1

El Chihuahua (Baldwin & Co.)..... 2

Fox (L. A. Blasingame)..... 3

Time 1:03.

LAST OF GALLOPERS.

The last race on the card was the best betting event of the day, for there were two chances and all were springers capable of making a hot run for the five and a half furlong.

Again in the second heat, Midnight, out of the lead and held it with little trouble, the entire distance, winning in a jolt.

The books would take no Midnight money for the third heat, but would only give 8 to 1 on Chief, who was a 2 to 1 shot or more, as his only chance of winning was in case the favorite should suddenly expire.

Chief started off with a burst of speed in this heat that carried him to the quarter a good distance before the favorite.

At the time he was traveling along almost three lengths to the good, and there was rejoicing among those who held the lead end of the book. But their joy was short lived, for at the three-quarter post it was evident that Midnight was on the turn, they were in the stretch, it was neck and neck, but at that stage of the game Midnight seemed to unhinge and away he went, crossing the tape six lengths to the good.

SUMMARY.

One mile, selling, for four-year-olds:

Escalante (Mrs. E. Boosee)..... 1

Chief (D. F. Cox)..... 2

Time 1:41.

DR. HARRISON & CO.

Entries—Richards, Phillip Sheridan, Glade Away, John Donohue, R. Hackney, San Diego Stables.

Second race, 2:15 trot—Entries: Solo, G. McKinney, Briney K. Dr. Rosell, L. A. Blasingame.

Third race, four furlongs—Entries: St. Chester, 118; Dwight Way, 115; Silva Cruz, 118; Hon. Peter Sterling, 115; Tacoma, 115; Perfection, 115.

Fourth race, 2:15 trot—Entries: Poncho, 115; Bob Palmer, 115; Macfie, 115; Atharba, 110; Abano, 108; Shanahan, 105.

Fifth race, Westminster Hotel Handicap, 2 miles and one-half—Entries: Rey Dore, 112; Lincoln, 103; Wardman, 96; Alice, 105; Castane, 108; Rio Colorado, 93; Joe Hock, 100.

Sixth race, Rose Stake, one mile—Entries: Forkord, 108; Victor, 105; Little Edgewood, 105; La Goya, 109; Miss Verna, 110; Sid C. 122; Myrtle, 110; Finesse, 110.

SEVENTEEN'S ELEVEN.

Five wizards of the cue will leave San Francisco for this city tomorrow, and are due to arrive Thursday.

Henry Berry, proprietor of the Hoffman billiard parlors, received a telegram from W. C. Simkins last evening stating that arrangements had been completed for taking the city by storm, and that unless present plans miscarry he will be here for the opening of the new parlors Thursday night. Besides Wizards, Spinks, Sigourney, Simkins, Douglass, and others, the latter having the latter will play W. A. Franklin for the Olympic Club trophy, which Dr. Burns was recently.

There was little change in the betting for the second heat. Solo was still favorite, as it was believed that Solo's poor start was responsible for her failure.

In spite of McKenna's excellent showing she sold four to one, with Cornelius D. and Solo.

Again there was a surprise for the patient. As in the first heat Almonds took the lead and held it to the stretch.

As they entered the stretch it was anybody's race who had saved in the sprint, but this proved to be McKenna.

McKenna was equal to the task and overhauled Cornelius D. at the wire, passing him by half a length.

Third place the fight between Solo and Almonds was won by the latter, and Almonds was won by two and a half lengths.

With a field of four left the betting resolved itself into an even money proposition on McKenna and Solo, there being a sneaking idea that the latter might be able to land at least one heat. Almonds and Cornelius D. were offered at three to one.

The heat was eaten up by McKenna, and Solo third. The fourth and last mile was also easy money. The Denison stables, and the offspring of McKinney and Etta Wilks jogged home in 2:19½, a winner of heat, race and first money.

SUMMARY.

The 2:25 trot, three in five heats, purse $700:

McKenna (C. Dennison)..... 2 1 1 1

Cornelius D. (W. S. Maben)..... 4 2 2 2

Almond (Ho You)..... 1 2 2 3

Rosell (K. (F. Keller))..... 5 dis.

Briney K. (F. Keller)..... 5 dis.

Time: 2:19. 2:19½. 2:19. 2:19½.

REINA DE CUBA SPINTS.

Eleven starters lined up at the gate for the four-and-one-half-furlong selling race for four-year-olds. Finesse, the winner of Saturday's dash, was the favorite with Howard, both selling at 2 to 1. Reina de Cuba was placed by some 2 to 1, with the odds on the daughter of the Empress of Norfolk showed her blood and heels by leading the field home.

The favorite was away at the start, but Solo Colorado and Miss Dividend crowding him all the way to the stretch. But the gait was strong, and Finesse found the bunch too willing, and reigned the lead to Black Orphan.

He ran to the wire, which was taken by Reina de Cuba, and Ramson hacked with the whip. It was a close run with Orphan to the wire, but the Baldwin colors passed under a half length to the good over Orphan, who beat Howard.

REINA DE CUBA SPINTS

Orange County Towns: Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton.

SHOOTING AT ANAHEIM LEADS TO ARREST.

MAN ACCUSES BROTHER-IN-LAW OF ATTEMPT TO MURDER.

Shots Fired Into George Lentz's House at Night and Occupants Hit. Alleged Assailant Claims He Can Prove an Alibi—Family Row.

'ANAHEIM. Sept. 30.—[From The Times' Correspondent.] George Lentz swore to a complaint here Saturday, charging Adolph Steinke, his brother-in-law, with shooting with intent to commit murder. It is claimed that the shooting took place Thursday night, but no arrest was made until Saturday. There has been much bitter feeling between the two families for several years past over estrangements and other troubles. The parties reside in the country west of this city, and live about 140 yards apart, opposite each other, on the public road.

The other night, just as Lentz had finished his supper, and as his wife was washing the dishes, a gun was fired into the house from the front, one shot striking Lentz in the shoulder, and one or two lodging in his wife's dress, not penetrating the fabric. Lentz was not seriously injured. Shot struck the top and side of the house, and several others struck the front door and were picked up in the kitchen.

After the second shot Lentz and his wife ran to the door, and it is stated they will testify they saw Steinke running from the end of the street to the house, to the north side. Then the Lentz ran to the home of a neighbor, named Bell, who returned home with them. The shooter was not in sight, and they went to their own house, but it is claimed they heard talking within. Lentz is satisfied that Steinke did the shooting, and it is reported that Bell will swear that he saw Steinke stand in front of his (Steinke's) house within twenty minutes after 8:15 p.m.

Steinke says he can prove that he left home at 8:15 p.m., and did not arrive at home until 8:15 p.m., stopping at the home of Mr. Schindler on his way out of town, and that when he arrived at his house his wife had retired, and he did not hear of the shooting until next day. Mrs. Steinke says she ran out of her house when the first shot was fired, being frightened because her husband had just returned from Anaheim. Steinke had double-barreled shotgun, but claims it was not in the house, a brother having borrowed it a few days before the shooting. Steinke bullet holes in the front door, and stray shots entering the house, and that this was all the shooting amounted to.

The preliminary examination will be held before Justice Shanley here Wednesday at 2 p.m.

SANTA ANA.

BOYS SENT TO PENITENTIARY.

SANTA ANA, Sept. 30.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] Harry Brown and George Moore, two boys arrested last week for breaking into J. A. Smith's small ranch house near Orange, today pleaded guilty to the charge of daylight burglary, and were sentenced to one year each in the State's prison at San Quentin. The lads are wanderers upon the face of the earth, and while they are both under 18 years of age, they have traveled all over the country, beating their way and stealing enough to live on in various instances.

FARMERS' CLUB ORGANIZED.

The Farmers' Club was organized at the home of F. N. Rafferty, president of the following officers: F. N. Rafferty, president; W. W. Buell, vice-president; W. E. Jones, secretary and treasurer. This club is the outgrowth of the farmers' institute recently held here, and it is expected that the club will receive a large membership. Before adjourning a committee presented the following programme for the coming year: "Irrigation in California," I. N. Rafferty; "Best Methods of Fertilizing," R. B. Guthrie; "Noxious Weeds, and How to Eradicate Them," Dr. Greenleaf. The next meeting will be at the home of C. V. Pulver on Santa Clara avenue.

AGED DISTURBER CONVICTED.

George W. Fuson, an old man, arrested a few days ago for disturbing the peace, was today found guilty by a jury, and Justice Wilson sentenced him to sixty days in the County Jail. Fuson is about 70, but he has been considered quite trim. Several months later the two were seen leaving town together, and it is believed they are now in Los Angeles. Healey stopped at a ranch three miles west of Fullerton, toward Los Angeles, and borrowed two overcoats from Morris Smith, saying that he wanted them for himself and a young man named Paul Koenig as there was talk that they were to be married. Smith does not know whether or not the girl was with Healey, as he did not see his companion. The girl has been staying in town a few days with friends, and on Saturday evening, and wanted her home, but she refused, saying she was going to Los Angeles.

SANTA ANA BREVITIES.

J. H. Meacham returned to Los Angeles today after a brief visit with his parents.

Len F. Harvey returned to De Lux, San Diego county yesterday, after a visit of four days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cash Harvey.

L. Hutchinson of Tustin to spend two weeks.

Rev. Mr. Martin, who has been visiting friends here for several weeks, returned today to his home in Corisca, Tex. He will return to Santa Ana in a few days.

According to reports just received, the Santiago Orange Growers' Association has shipped 190 carloads of oranges during the past season. The as- sociation also shipped twenty carloads of lemons, and is still shipping.

T. S. Organ, who is today to his home at Santa Cruz, after a visit of a few days with friends at Tustin, where he formerly was pastor of the Advent Church.

George E. Freeman has returned from Los Angeles, where he made a brief visit.

Mrs. Belle Johnson returned from Los Angeles today. She has been visiting friends.

A. G. Snow of Tustin went to Pasadena today, to enter upon a course of study at Throop.

The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce has received several fine samples of table hosts from J. S. Thurston of the Aliso Cabin, to be forwarded to the Orange county exhibit at Los Angeles. One of the monsters which he has made.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Toole and daughter are spending a week in Los Angeles with friends.

The Justice of the Peace, William tried his last case in the old court-rooms. In the future he will be located on the second story in the Court-house.

Andrew Pope has filed a complaint against the City Clerk asking for a pension of his daughter. He alleges that the daughter has been deserted by his mother and placed in the home of Mrs. Pope's parents, which the complainant also claims is an undesirable place for the detention of the child.

ORANGE.

GONE TO HIGH SCHOOL.

ORANGE, Sept. 30.—[From The Times' Correspondent.] The following boys and girls of Orange have entered the High School in Santa Ana: Ethel Hattie, Charles Williams, Clara Ford, John Schneider, Nedie Morris, Claude Nichols, Lucille Small, William Lee, Frances Pixley, Harriet Northcross, Edith Bell, Frances Dodge, William McPherson, Louis Flippin, Leon Shadel, Connie Spencer, Leon Davis, Charles Williams, Annie Roy, Jessie Flippin, Adele Eller, Vera Gardner, Freda May, Vera Gardner, Margaret Gardner, Juanita Burger, Margaret Paxton, Christina Pirie, George Wells, Fay Mendenhall.

ORANGE BREVITIES.

Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Miller have arrived from San Fran. with a view of locating here permanently.

The Fortnightly Club was entertained Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bibber, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. A special programme was rendered and refreshments served.

Rev. A. Parker has returned from Los Angeles, where he attended the meeting of the presbytery.

Mrs. Marietta Kirkendall of Arlington is visiting friends in Orange for a few days.

Mrs. Bussek and Dr. Ida Parker entertained friends at dinner Friday in honor of Mrs. Joel B. Parker of Los Angeles.

Shipments of oranges and grapes from Orange the past week averaged one carload each a day.

W. B. Forsythe of Los Angeles has arrived.

An epitaph on a Vejera who was hard to kill, reads: "Fought through three wars, married six times, and died at last."

(Atlanta Constitution.)

sires, tastes and ambitions," even if not inherited, which sprung up in a lower class for the display, indulgences and leisure of a higher (if it is really a higher) social class possessing wealth have worked as a most power- ful stimulus for the emergence of new and creative devices for gaining wealth, and especially for gaining that low cost which permits the expansion of trade and a larger income.

With the inevitable extension of mod- ern division of labor, so that the preparation of one part of a completed article;

with the widening of the market due to a vastly larger population, have come both the opportunity and the stimulus to the development of special and auxiliary tools. Not only has this acted on the inventor, but also on the manager and laborer. The work- man in which this class of men has grasped these new opportunities, and thus in the rapid expansion of interna- tional commerce, with the growth of great establish- ments and large capitals. Of course, each has had a reflex influence upon the other. But above the surface of our industrial history in recent years has been this essential fact—the per- manent and absolute predominance of the capitalist class of men, who have acted as the main cause of the revo- lutionary changes in society, and the development of the capitalist class of men, who have been the chief factor in the growth of the Teutonic race; stimu- lated by free institutions, and living in a cli- mate which permits continuous labor without deterioration. If with the capitalist class of men, the fact already designated above, the cheap acquisition of food and necessities of life from the best and most varied soils

in the world—we understand by its quality.

But for other reasons our institutions have produced not only enough for the consumption of the artisans and the whole people, but have sent hun- dreds of millions of bushels of their grain to foreign countries. For the last sixty years Americans have been able to go on with the work of the ma- nufacture without question as to the yield of farm and vine.

The latter have produced not only enough for their own people and for the million in foreign countries.

From this point of view our gains have been so great that the facts seem almost like exaggerations. If we wish to know the growth of our industrial power in the future a short retrospec- tive will show probable advances in the new century.

In agricultural occupations, which lie at the base of all industrial gains of a permanent kind, the racial, climatic and natural advantages of the United States are so great that we must expect to find the crops and products of farm, forest and mine excep- tional interest.

The subject before us is not an investi- gation into our development as a carrying nation; as the expressmen of the sea; as a mere transporting power,

such as the Dutch and the Norwegians,

whose barren soil and inclement cli- mate do not allow them to compete with us in the production of the staple products of the world.

It is the natural resources of the

United States that have made possi- ble our industrial development.

It is the natural resources of the

United States that have made possi- ble our industrial development.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1901.

Los Angeles County—Its Cities, Towns, Villages.

EXTENSION LECTURES
BEGIN IN PASADENA.TALK ON DANGEROUS MOSQUITOES
BY PROF. HOWARD.

LIFE AND LIMB Menaced by Cars on the Corner of Fair Oaks Avenue and Colorado Street—News Notes and Brevities.

PASADENA. Office of The Times, No. 20 South Raymond avenue, Sept. 30.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The first lecture of the season of the Educational Extension Society was delivered in the auditorium this evening by Prof. L. O. Howard, entomologist of the Agricultural Department, Washington, D. C. Dr. Howard treated of the malarial parasite and its propagation by mosquitoes, illustrating the lecture with stereopticon slides. There was a large attendance.

The mosquito is of the genus Anopheles, and the speaker told of the different stages of its life. He showed by illustration the different stages, comparison with those of the common housefly, mosquito, Culex. He further described recent experiments of the army yellow-fever commission, in demonstrating the carriage of yellow-fever by the mosquito Stegomyia. This is an extremely dangerous disease. The dread disease known as Filariasis is carried by other mosquitoes, typhus fever by the common house fly, spread of the bubonic plague by means of fleas, certain eye diseases by ticks, and the Texas fever of cattle by ticks, showing further that the famous sickness of cattle in South Africa is not due, as formerly supposed, to the more bite of a kind of fly, but to the common germs.

He spoke also of the different remedies for common nuisances of the order.

Rev. Robert J. Burdette will lecture October 5 upon "Rainbow Chasers."

DANGEROUS CORNER.

Yesterday afternoon while several scores of people were waiting for cars at Fair Oaks avenue and Colorado street a street preacher shouted without introduction, "You'll all be here to-morrow at five o'clock." Whether the remark had reference to the congested appearance of the corner or not, it sounded very apropos. Cars were coming in from the south, looking like a stampede after a herd of cattle. Numerous sightseers from Mount Lowe were arriving, and there was the usual congregation of those who "just came to look." A man who had been standing near the corner had been having hard work for several days, and had been working for others, but had attempted to cross the street. Passers-by wondered why the street preacher made the time so long an fifty feet.

The swiftness of the cars on this corner has been objected to very often in times gone by, but to no avail. It makes a death trap of the corner. The electric company meets all protest with the reminder that City Council has given the green double track on Colorado street, which would have eliminated the switching. With the increased population promised for the year, the number of cars on the streets which go into effect tomorrow, the conditions will be made worse.

PASADENA BREVITIES.

The annual reunion of the Shakespeare Club will be held on Saturday afternoon, October 5, when the hall will be opened for the shareholders.

Club is composed of Pasadena's leading women in literature and public spirit and the coming season promises to be productive of as much good as the past.

The program includes a car service which goes into effect tomorrow, the conditions will be made worse.

SANTA MONICA.

BIG RUN OF FISH.

BRIGHTON BEACH. HOSTELRY CLOSING.

BRIGHTON BEACH (Terminal Hotel) closed today for repairs. A number of important improvements are to be made about the place. The hostelry is to be reopened in about two months.

SANTA MONICA.

BIG RUN OF FISH.

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 30.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The excellent fishing which has prevailed for over a week reached the high-water mark today. Surf fish and pompano were caught in large numbers, and the run of smelt was almost without precedent. Fishermen also claim that yellowfin are appearing in larger numbers now than at any time since the deadly protozoa prevailed.

SANTA MONICA BREVITIES.

Three sailors hired a rig from G. Bundy yesterday and took a drive to the cañon. While there, they got drunk and on the trip to town were thrown from the buggy, one man being severely bruised and the other two shaken up. The vehicle was damaged.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

A horse hitched to a wagon of the Electric Express Company got frightened and ran away, and crashed on the sidewalk at No. 5 North Fair Oaks avenue and the pole of the wagon crashed through the window of the First National Bank, whose savings department office.

The first meeting of the season of the New Century Club will be held to-night at the home of Prof. J. H. Moore, No. 355½ Spring street, when Judge Waldo M. Work will speak upon "Anarchy in the United States." It will be ladies' night, and following the lecture there will be discussions.

E. C. Bailey, Esq., and Councilman P. E. Twombly have returned from a sailing expedition to San Gabriel Cañon, but they are not telling many details. They did not go to the new county game ordinance, for the sake of the catching of trout after September 15, until they came back to civilization.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

AT THE THEATERS.

BURPARK—The Only Way.
OPHEUM—Vaudeville.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Maj. Birmingham Dead.

Gov. LaGrange of the Soldiers' Home is in receipt of a telegram announcing the death at New York of Maj. J. M. Birmingham, a general surgeon. The two Maj. Birmingham passed away Sunday night.

Dinner to Bishop.

Mrs. W. H. Fisher of No. 1400 Bantie street gave a handsome dinner last evening in honor of Bishop and Mrs. McCabe. The other guests were Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Reed, Mrs. George H. House of this city, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Rindge of Santa Monica.

Bishop in the Breast.

Frank Waller, a brick contractor, was treated at the Receiving Hospital last night for a knife wound in the breast inflicted by a woman. Waller says he did not know the woman was in a restaurant near the corner of First and Vine streets and Waller did not notice that the boy had a knife in his hand.

Dr. Walker's Mission.

Rev. Hugh K. Walker, D.D., pastor of the Immanuel Presbyterian Church, received an urgent request from Dr. John of Alton, Ill., to go to New Mexico on some important business for the board. He left yesterday morning on the early train to be gone about ten days. His pupil will be supplied next Sunday.

Caught With Petty Larceny.

George Pond, who was arrested on suspicion Sunday morning on East First street, and who then had in his possession several pieces of harness, is now charged with petty larceny. He told the arresting officer that he lived in San Pedro, and that he had brought the harness to the city with him.

It was learned that it had been stolen from a stable near the corner of Eighth and Hope streets.

Run With the Boots.

Charles Wilson, a recent arrival from Sacramento, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of petty larceny. He is accused of the theft of a pair of riding boots from a Lavinthal's clothing store, No. 122 South Main street. Lavinthal witnessed the theft and followed Wilson so closely that the latter threw the boots in a hallway and tried to escape. He was taken off by Patrolman Butler and locked up.

Where Is Butcher?

The police of this city have been asked to make an effort to locate F. M. Butcher, a justice of the peace of Fallbrook, San Diego county. He left his home to come to this city two weeks ago, and his relatives there have not heard from him since. The police are now asking Fallbrook to attend to certain cases which are pending in his court. Butcher is a veteran of the Civil War, and was once a member of the Soldiers' Home.

Bloody Beating.

Leo Tann, a rancher, applied at the County Hospital yesterday for treatment, saying he had been severely injured and cut with blood, but when his wounds were examined it was found that he had received only a few cuts and a number of severe burns about the face. It was thought he was working on "Lucky" Baldwin's ranch and had a quarrel with two drunken men, who attacked him and beat him almost into insensibility.

Fell From a Car.

In stepping from a Westlake Park car at Seventh and Flower streets last evening, Mrs. Eller of Los Angeles, 26, struck her head in the wrong direction and was thrown violently in front of a car approaching on the other track. Her face was cut and bruised and for a moment it was supposed that she had been seriously injured. Dr. C. C. the company's surgeon, dressed her injuries. He said later that he did not consider them serious, although they are very painful.

Where's Your Fruit?

The Chamber of Commerce is making regular shipments of fruit to the American representation in the work, and is desirous of obtaining all the fine California fruit possible. Growers of fine specimens of apples, pears, quinces, pomegranates, persimmons, grapes or peaches may have their fruit sent in competition with the same products of the Eastern States by sending the same to the local Chamber of Commerce, properly labeled and in quantities to fit into one place. All entries will be forwarded immediately to Buffalo.

Boss Commandant Here.

Commandant of W. W. Smyan of the Boss army, whose rank corresponds to that of a brigadier-general in the United States, is spending a few days in the city. He was sent out by President Steyn some time ago and remained Europe and America on the South African situation. Commander Smyan fought with Botha, Cronje and Dewet, and he declares that the Transvaal will never become a British colony. He says the English have either given up or recognized the independence of the Boers or exterminate them as a race. The South African visitor knew the martyred McKinley, and is acquainted with the President.

Martyred President Exalted.

The Los Angeles Lodge, Knights of Honor, at last meeting, one since the assassination of the President, adopted an expression of deep regret at the country's calamity. After a brief prelude, the meeting adjourned to a solemn adjournment to the cemetery. The Lodge, however, has a man of purest character, loved and respected by a united nation: a great, wise, useful and successful statesman and leader. While we condemn the great South African crime, we also value our voice against the too prevalent spirit of anarchy, manifested in every act of lawlessness, riot and lynching that has become notorious in every part of our land.

BREVITIES.

Send donations of cast-off clothing, furniture or food supplies to the Good Samaritan Association of the Bethlehem Institutional Church, Vignes and Ducommun street, or telephone John 26, and wagon will call for same during next months 11 to 12 days.

The opening demonstration lecture in the Y.W.C.A. course in cooking has been postponed one week to Tuesday, October 8, 9:45 a.m.

First lesson in Mrs. Lou V. Chapin's class in current history at Y.W.C.A. this evening, 9:45 o'clock.

For time of arrival and departure of Santa FE trains see "Time Card" in today's Times.

Guitar and mandolin class at Y.W.C.A. opens this evening, 7:15 o'clock.

Rev. E. A. Ross, evangelist, will preach at Penitentiary Hall tonight.

Dr. Sweet, 216-217 Lankershim Blk. Hours 10-12, 1:30-4:30.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union office for C. W. Newman, A. E. Morrison, Mrs. Ida Smith, William P. Campbell, O. Heinz, and Mrs. Wyatt (colored).

It is proposed at St. Petersburg that a new bank, operating principally in Persia, be founded in the Russian capital.

Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, has given a copy of his book, "Admiral Farragut," to Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

The Judge of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia, Mr. Justice Peck, has given a copy of his book, "Admiral Farragut," to Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, "I feel compelled to give my copy of 'Admiral Farragut' to Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean."

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, "but I am sure he is going to be outdone."

Admiral Farragut, C. W. Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, has given a copy of his book, "Admiral Farragut," to Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Do you think he is going to be outdone?"

"I did not," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Not to be outdone," said Capt. John Raymond, of the U.S. Navy, who is serving in the Spanish-American War under command of the Spanish fleet in the Mediterranean